MAKEUP IDEAS:

1. Accentuate your eye contour and mucosa with a brown shade, and then draw a fancy arrow above the upperr eyelid crease. Blend the lines slightly.

2. With a deep grape shade, draw classic arrows to the middle of the eyelid, and then create a reverse arrow at the inner corner of the eye with a lighter shade.

3. Create the usual black and clear arrows along the entire lash line, and highlight the lower lash line with a soft bronze haze. Using the same shade, draw an arc over the upper eyelid crease and blend it upwards slightly.

4. Use your pencil like eye-shadows: apply the light shade from the inner corner of the eye to the middle of the upper eyelid, and the dark one to the outer corner of the eye, slightly pulling the lines up towards the eyebrow tail. Slightly accentuate the lower eyelid with the brown shade. Blend all contours and transitions thoroughly.

5. Apply the mint shade alone onto the entire mobile upper eyelid like eye-shadows, and draw the upper eyelid mucosa and lower lash line using the gray shade. Blend the contours softly.

FOR YOUR SALES

Gift bags

If your client has placed a large order with you, pack it in a corporate gift bag. This kind of attention will please your client, and he or she will certainly come back to you for another purchase!

Corporate materials

Corporate materials, including product brochures, catalogues and price lists will help you navigate through the product ranges and tell you clients important information they need to know.

Product samples

Product samples are an important sales tool. They allow your clients to better decide which product suits them, and you look more professional and increase your sales. Please note that there are samples not only for perfumes, but also for other products.

Tone charts

Suggest your clients who buy Silky Colouring, Botanica or Colour Maximum hair dyes with you to refer to our Tone Charts (art. 8249, 8769 or 18053). Having more accurately determined the colour shade, this client will definitely come back to you next time!
