ROYAL SECRETS OF YOUTH

Gold has been cherished as a source of beauty and eternal youth since the ancient times — thousands years ago Chinese physicians called it the elixir of life

- Historians believe that it was the Cleopatra's mask of pure gold the source of beauty of the queen who ruled one of the strongest realms of her time: the great queen used to leave it on all night long for young and shiny complexion
- During the Ming Dynasty, surgeons treated skin diseases with gold
- Ayurveda, a traditional Indian medicine recognized as a reference system for healing the body, is famous for its unique gold-based recipes

PURE GOLD

Bee Royal products contain 24-carat gold - it corresponds to 999, the highest grade.

Such gold is considered the most valuable, pure, and expensive.

The home of our gold is Nanjing, the world's largest center of gold foil production. It is here that the Chinese traditions of forging the finest precious sheets, recognized as an international cultural heritage, originated.

Nanjing foil is as thin and as transparent as a bee's wing. It is so delicate that it literally melts on the skin, giving it all its beneficial properties.

Once on the surface of the skin, under the influence of human body temperature, the foil disintegrates into tiny particles. Owing to negative gold ions, the cell potential is increased and metabolic processes are activated.

LIQUID GOLD

Another secret of Cleopatra's beauty has reached our days - baths with honey and milk, which turned her skin into luxurious velvet.

The history of honey in medicine and cosmetology also goes back thousands of years: it is widely known for its rejuvenating, anti-inflammatory and nourishing properties. Hippocrates and Avicenna created their own recipes based on honey for a healthy complexion and youthfulness.

HONEY CONTAINS A WHOLE COMPLEX OF BENEFICIAL SUBSTANCES FOR THE SKIN:

- Fruit acids accelerate skin renewal
- Vitamin C has antioxidizing effect
- Amino acids moisturize and heal
- B vitamins improve microcirculation, support metabolic processes.
- Minerals strengthen and soothe the skin, accelerate regeneration

SECRET INGREDIENT

Bee Royal contains honey of a rare wax bee living in the Far East.

Apis cerana bee is unique in its ability to live in unfavorable conditions and high resistance to temperature changes and diseases. It flies even at times when other bee species cannot safely leave the hive: dusk, rain, or frost.

The chemical composition of honey depends on the genotype of the bee. Chinese wax bee honey contains more than 600 valuable substances - amino acids, macro- and microelements, and vitamins.
