HARMONY INSIDE

She has been looking for her place on the planet throughout all her life. The place where she could be herself. The big city where She was born and grew up seemed alien to Her. And then, our heroine set out in the search of her haven. She travelled all over the world, moving from one continent to another, but I couldn't feel calm anywhere until fate brought Her to a tiny island in the Indian Ocean. This place is a true paradise, but it did not make Her happy either. Chance decided everything.

A strong storm prevented Her from continuing her journey. Holding back her tears, the girl wandered along the beach, where she saw an elderly Hindu looking serenely at the ocean. In him, She saw the harmony she had been striving for. "How does it feel to live here all your life?, She asked. — Has this place made you happy?" The sage told her that harmony does not depend on the scenery around — it is always inside us. It turned out that he was a European and had once come to this island, just like Her. The main thing he learned while being here is to travel inside himself. He shared His knowledge with Her.

After spending a month in meditation, She realised with amazement that she really travelled without leaving the place. She discovered a Land of peace, which is not on any map of the world. The girl returned to her hometown. She still traveled a lot around the world, but now she did it knowing that She had already found the most important place for Her — in her heart!
